EUROPEAN COURT OF HUMAN RIGHTS

PRESS RELEASE

FORTHCOMING JUDGMENTS AND DECISIONS

ECHR 256 (2026) 22.10.2026

Press release issued by the Registrar of the Court

The European Court of Human Rights will be notifying in writing three judgments on Tuesday 27 October 2026 and 22 judgments and / or decisions on Thursday 29 October 2026.

Press releases and texts of the judgments and decisions will be available at 10 a.m. (local time) on the Court's Internet site (www.echr.coe.int).

Thursday 29 October 2026

Fišić v. Croatia (application no. 18788/22)

The applicant, Oliver Fišić, is a Croatian national who was born in 1968 and lives in Brašina (Croatia).

In 2017 Mr Fišić made a bid in a public tender to lease a vending stand in Brašina. Another bidder was offered the lease. The case concerns Mr Fišić's ensuing administrative action against this decision, which was declared inadmissible on the ground that the decision fell outside the scope of administrative judicial review.

Relying on Article 6 § 1 (right of access to court) of the European Convention on Human Rights, Mr Fišić complains that he was denied access to a tribunal to defend his rights. He argues in particular that there was no point in holding public tender procedures if no judicial review was possible, as bidders would be left without protection against unlawful decisions.

Andreani and Others v. Italy (nos. 44596/18, 13410/23, and 36375/24)
Mendicino and Others v. Italy (nos. 78000/16, 72022/17, 18213/18, and 46960/18)
Schiavo S.r.l. v. Italy (no. 60258/13)

The cases concern the alleged excessive length of domestic proceedings and the effectiveness of the compensatory remedy available under the Pinto Act.

Relying on Articles 6 § 1 (right to a hearing within a reasonable time) and Article 13 (effective remedy) of the European Convention, the applicants complain that the length of the relevant domestic proceedings had been excessive and that they had no effective domestic remedy in that regard.

Lo Sicco v. Italy (no. 14417/09)

The applicant, Pietro Lo Sicco, is an Italian national who was born in 1948 and lives in Palermo (Italy).

The application concerns the foreseeability, under Article 7 of the Convention, of the applicant's criminal conviction pursuant to Articles 416 bis and 110 of the Criminal Code and the lawfulness, under Article 7 of the Convention and Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 to the Convention, of the resulting confiscation of his property.

Relying on Article 7 (no punishment without law), the applicant submits that the offence of "aiding and abetting from the outside" a mafia-type organisation was not foreseeable at the time when the acts of which he was accused were committed (1980-1995). He further complains that the offence of membership of a mafia-type organisation under Article 416 bis of the Criminal Code was applied with respect to a period (1980-1982) that predated the entry into force of that provision. Relying on Article 7 and on Article 1 of Protocol No. 1, the applicant also argues that the confiscation of his property had no legal basis. He again submits, in that regard, that the acts for which he was held criminally liable by the national courts were committed between 1980 and 1995.

The Court will give its rulings in writing on the following cases, some of which concern issues which have already been submitted to the Court, including excessive length of proceedings.

These rulings can be consulted from the day of their delivery on the Court's online database HUDOC. They will not appear in the press release issued on that day.
