

EUROPEAN COURT OF HUMAN RIGHTS
COUR EUROPÉENNE DES DROITS DE L'HOMME

FIRST SECTION

DECISION

Application no. 30351/06
Lyudmila Aleksandrovna VLASOVA and others against Russia and 32 other applications
(see list appended)

The European Court of Human Rights (First Section), sitting on 18 September 2012 as a Committee composed of:

Peer Lorenzen, President,

Khanlar Hajiyeu,

Julia Laffranque, judges,

and André Wampach, Deputy Section Registrar,

Having regard to the above applications lodged on dates tabulated in the appendix below,

Having regard to the declaration submitted by the respondent Government on 22 September 2010 requesting the Court to strike the applications out of the list of cases and the applicants' replies to that declaration,

Having deliberated, decides as follows:

THE FACTS

The applicants are one hundred and one Russian nationals whose names and dates of birth are tabulated in the appendix below. Ms Myasina (case no. 2409/07) is not represented in the proceedings before the Court. The rest of the applicants are represented by Mr I.V. Novikov, a lawyer practising in Novosibirsk. The Russian Government ("the Government") were represented by Mr G. Matyushkin, the Representative of the Russian Federation at the European Court of Human Rights.

In the course of the proceedings, Ms Kuntseva (application no 5686/07) passed away. On 18 December 2011, a Chamber decided that Mr N.V. Kuntsev, who is the late applicant's son, had standing to continue the proceedings before the Court in his late mother's stead.

The facts of the cases, as submitted by the parties, may be summarised as follows.

All the applicants are pensioners. They successfully sued the pension authorities for miscalculating their pensions. Subsequently, on the authorities' initiative, the Presidium of the Supreme Court of Yakutiya quashed the final judgments by way of supervisory review to the applicants' detriment on the ground of misinterpretation of the material law.

COMPLAINTS

The applicants complained under Article 6 and Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 about quashing of judgments in their favour by way of supervisory review.

THE LAW

The applicants complained about quashing of final and enforceable judgments in their favour by way of supervisory review. They relied on Article 6 § 1 of the Convention and Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 which, in so far as relevant, provide as follows:

Article 6 § 1 of the Convention

“In the determination of his [or her] civil rights and obligations [...], everyone is entitled to a fair and public hearing within a reasonable time by an independent and impartial tribunal established by law [...].”

Article 1 of Protocol No. 1

“Every natural or legal person is entitled to the peaceful enjoyment of his possessions. No one shall be deprived of his possessions except in the public interest and subject to the conditions provided for by law and by the general principles of international law.”

By letter dated 22 September 2010 the Government informed the Court that they proposed to make a unilateral declaration with a view to resolving the issue raised by the applications in all cases except for three applicants in application no. 11884/07, namely Ms N.A. Dyachenko, Mr M.N. Dyachenko and Ms L.S. Sukhova. They further requested the Court to strike out the applications in accordance with Article 37 of the Convention.

In that declaration, the Government acknowledged the violation of the applicants' rights under the Convention on account of the quashing of the binding judgments on the ground of misinterpretation of substantial law by way of supervisory review. The Government mentioned that the judgments in the applicants' favour had been fully complied with prior to their quashing by way of supervisory review. The Government undertook to pay each applicant concerned 1,400 euros (EUR) as compensation for damage resulting from the violations mentioned above.

The reminder of their declaration reads as follows:

“The sum referred to above, which is to cover any pecuniary and non-pecuniary damage as well as costs and expenses, will be free of any taxes that may be applicable. It will be payable within three months from the date of notification of the decision taken by the Court pursuant to Article 37 § 1 of the European Convention on Human Rights. In the event of failure to pay this sum within the said three-month period, the Government undertake to pay simple interest on it from expiry of that period until settlement, at a rate equal to the marginal lending rate of the European Central Bank during the default period plus three percentage points.

This payment will constitute the final resolution of the case.”

In a letter of 2 December 2010, the applicants represented by Mr Novikov disagreed with the Government's suggestion to strike their cases out, insisting on examination of their complaints. They seem to complain about the unlawful termination of payment of pensions at a rate fixed by the judgments in their favour. They pointed out that arrears on payment amounted to around 80,000 Russian roubles with regard to each applicant, without submitting any documents in support of this sum. In addition, they contested the amounts proposed by the Government for non-pecuniary damage. In a letter of 13 November 2010, Ms Myasina indicated that the Government still had judgment debt, without submitting any documents in support of this allegation.

The Court recalls that Article 37 of the Convention provides that it may at any stage of the proceedings decide to strike an application out of its list of cases where the circumstances lead to one of the conclusions specified under (a), (b) or (c) of paragraph 1 of that Article. Article 37 § 1 (c) enables the Court in particular to strike a case out of its list if:

“for any other reason established by the Court, it is no longer justified to continue the examination of the application”.

It also recalls that in certain circumstances, it may strike out an application under Article 37 § 1(c) on the basis of a unilateral declaration by a respondent Government even if the applicant wishes the examination of the case to be continued.

To this end, the Court will examine carefully the declaration in the light of the principles emerging from its case-law, in particular the Tahsin Acar judgment (see, Tahsin Acar v. Turkey (preliminary issue) [GC], no. 26307/95, §§ 75-77, ECHR 2003-VI; WAZA Spółka z o.o. v. Poland (dec.) no. 11602/02, 26 June 2007; and Sulwińska v. Poland (dec.) no. 28953/03, 18 September 2007).

Turning to the Government's unilateral declarations, the Court observes that the judgments providing the applicants with an enforceable claim were quashed by way of supervisory review. The Court is satisfied that the quashing of binding and enforceable judgments in the applicants' favour is explicitly acknowledged by the Government as violating the Convention.

As regards the pecuniary damage sustained by the applicants, the Court notes that according to the Government, the judgments in the applicants' favour were fully executed prior to their quashing. The Government provided documents supporting those payments. As far as the applicants' replies to the declaration can be understood as contesting the fact of those payments, the Court cannot accept this argument as they did not provide any documentary evidence. Thus it admits that the judgments in the applicants' favour were fully enforced by the Russian authorities until the moment of their quashing.

The Court recalls that after the final judgments were quashed they ceased to exist under domestic law; it cannot restore the power of these judgments nor assume the role of the national authorities in awarding social benefits for the future (see, among other authorities, Tarnopolskaya and Others v. Russia, nos. 11093/07 et al., § 51, 7 July 2009). Consequently, no pecuniary awards for the periods after the quashing could be legitimately claimed by the applicants before the Court.

As far as compensation for the non-pecuniary damage is concerned, the Court notes that the relevant sums offered by the Government are comparable with Court's awards in similar cases (see Ryabov and 151 other "Privileged pensioners" cases v. Russia, nos. 4563/07 et al., § 23, 17 December 2009, and Streltsov and other "Novocherkassk military pensioners" cases v. Russia, nos. 8549/06 et al., § 96, 29 July 2010).

Having regard to the nature of the admissions contained in the Government's declarations, as well as the amounts of compensation proposed – which are consistent with the amounts awarded in similar cases – the Court considers that it is no longer justified to continue the examination of the applications (Article 37 § 1(c)).

In light of the above considerations, and given also the clear and extensive case-law on the topic (see, for example, Kulkov and Others v. Russia, nos. 25114/03 et al., 8 January 2009, and Pugach and Others v. Russia, nos. 31799/08 et al., 4 November 2010), the Court is satisfied that respect for human rights as defined in the Convention and the Protocols thereto does not require it to continue the examination of the applications (Article 37 § 1 in fine).

In view of the above, it is appropriate to strike the cases out of the list, except for the case of Ms N.A. Dyachenko, Mr M.N. Dyachenko and Ms L.S. Sukhova (application no. 11884/07).

As regards Ms N.A. Dyachenko, Mr M.N. Dyachenko and Ms L.S. Sukhova who are the applicants in application no. 11884/07, the Court notes that the judgments in their favour have been quashed on 27 July 2006 and the applicants lodged their application on 9 February 2007. Nothing in the applicants' submissions indicates that they were not immediately aware of the ruling. It follows that the part of application no. 11884/07 concerning these applicants is introduced out of time and must be rejected in accordance with Article 35 §§ 1 and 4 of the Convention (see Sardin v. Russia (dec.), no. 69582/01, ECHR 2004-II).

For these reasons, the Court unanimously

Decides to join the applications;

Takes note of the terms of the respondent Government's declarations under Article 6 § 1 of the Convention and Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 and of the modalities for ensuring compliance with the undertakings referred to therein with regard to all applicants except for Ms N.A. Dyachenko, Mr M.N. Dyachenko and Ms L.S. Sukhova (application no. 11884/07);

Decides to strike the applications out of its list of cases in accordance with Article 37 § 1 (c) of the Convention, except for application no. 11884/07 with regard to Ms N.A. Dyachenko, Mr M.N. Dyachenko and Ms L.S. Sukhova;

Decides to declare inadmissible application no. 11884/07 with regard to Ms N.A. Dyachenko, Mr M.N. Dyachenko and Ms L.S. Sukhova in accordance with Article 35 § 1 of the Convention.
